How can ChocoGrid make high end Apps like this possible at such speed and cost?

With over 8 years of app development expertise, instead of creating general apps for businesses, we spent a few years (3+) and some mad money and resources (millions and hundreds of people) to develop an awesome platform that would let us create cutting edge apps for businesses in a modular structure using sophisticated architecture and tools and thus delivering un-matched services and delivery that sky rockets your app requirements and your business.

That's what has brought us to this point.
